Twinsters

One day, a 25-year-old woman named Samantha Futerman was using Facebook at her home in Los Angeles. She got a friend request from a French woman named Anaïs. When Samantha looked at Anaïs's photo, she was very surprised because Anaïs looked just like her!

Soon after, Anaïs sent Samantha a message. She had found something amazing – they were both born on the same day, 19th November 1987, in South Korea. Both were adopted by different families in different countries. Anaïs grew up in France, and Samantha in the USA. They had never known they had a twin.

The two women started talking on Skype and believed they were identical twins. They decided to take a DNA test to be sure. Samantha traveled to London, where Anaïs was studying, and when they met, they knew they were sisters. The DNA test confirmed they were twins.

Later, they traveled to South Korea to find their birth mother. Sadly, she did not want to meet them. However, they wrote her a letter to thank her for giving them life. Their story was so special that they made a film about it called Twinsters, using real videos of their journey.
